Recognized for scaling a culture of belonging and inclusion across its globally distributed teams.

SAN FRANCISCO--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- For the fifth year in a row, Asana, Inc. (NYSE: ASAN)(LTSE:ASAN) has been named to Inc. Magazine's annual list of the Best Workplaces for 2022. This year, the award recognizes Asana for excelling in creating an exceptional company culture that unites its hybrid workforce across teams and time zones.

“Being recognized as a Best Workplace by Inc. Magazine for the fifth consecutive year is a tremendous honor,” said Sonja Gittens Ottley, Head of Diversity, Inclusion & Belonging, Asana. “With more than 70% of our employees hired and onboarded remotely in the past two years, we’ve heavily invested in virtual community-building efforts to ensure that our teams feel supported and connected to each other. As we enter the next phase of hybrid work across our global offices, we’re inspired to continue building a best-in-class product and culture that drives connection, inclusion and transparency for both our employees and customers.”

Inc. selected the 475 final honorees after collecting data from thousands of submissions. Each company that was nominated took part in an employee survey, conducted by Quantum Workplace, which included topics such as management effectiveness, perks, fostering employee growth and overall company culture. The organization’s benefits were also audited to determine overall score and ranking.

“Not long ago, the term ‘best workplace’ would have conjured up images of open-office designs with stocked snack fridges,” says Inc. editor-in-chief Scott Omelianuk. “Yet given the widespread adoption of remote work, the concept of the workplace has shifted. This year, Inc. has recognized the organizations dedicated to redefining and enriching the workplace in the face of the pandemic.”
